MBE Certified Reap Construction Group Launches New Scopes of Work and New Web Site!

Indianapolis, October 5, 2015: Reap Construction Group (RCG) today announced they have moved into several new scopes of work in the Indiana construction market. RCG's owner, Ryan Potter, says the company is expanding the quality construction services it can offer to customers. The company will now be performing asbestos abatement, framing, drywall, and acoustical ceilings as well as safety management and general services.

Potter, who has over ten years of experience in the Indiana construction market, said of the expansion, "We strongly believe in developing our people as well as growing the high quality construction services we can offer customers and construction-users throughout the Midwest. This is a good move for our company, our employees, and our customers."

Potter also announced the company's new web site – www.reapconstructiongroup.com. The new web site has an extensive online portfolio of RCG's recent projects.

Reap Construction Group corporate headquarters is located at: 3815 River Crossing Parkway, Suite 135, Indianapolis, Indiana 46250. For more information contact Ryan Potter at: 317-333-9740 or via email at: admin@reapconstructiongroup.com.
